

You are invited to become a member of the

Society for the Advancement of Economic Theory

Purpose:

To advance knowledge in theoretical economics and to facilitate communication among researchers in economics, mathematics, game theory, or any other field which is potentially useful to economic theory.

Membership:

Any individual with an interest in economics can become a member upon payment of the requested dues.

Journal:

Membership in the Society for the Advancement of Economic Theory includes a subscription to Economic Theory. A condition of this subscription is that the issues of the journal are for the personal use of the member only and should not be forwarded to or made available to the library or department. The member accepts this condition on signing the membership form.

Dues:

The membership fee for an individual is $ 69.00. Students are eligible for an additional discount and pay only $ 39.00.
